

To whom it may concern;

I am writing this to comment on Low Power FM stations and how they would possible replace KLOVE in my area. This would be an absolute travesty if it did occur. KLOVE (88.1 in Omaha, NE) is the only radio station that I listen to and I would be at a loss if it ever were to leave the air. It is nice to have positive and encouraging music to listen to and have especially the kids in the area listen to. Some of the other stations play music with very bad lyrics and I don't want any part of that. KLOVE helps bring decent concerts to the area and gives hope to people when there is not much hope. KLOVE's programming sends that hope through the message of their music and positive DJ's. Please do not replace them with something that isn't as family wholesome.

Thank you
